

Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 13 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Windy but turning milder Sunday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Patches of rain, sleet and snow will continue sporadically for a time, but for most a dry night ahead. Remaining cold and windy, with frost forming across the region. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Sunday:
Rain moves in from the west, potentially causing the risk of ice. Rain turns heavier into the afternoon, especially over hills, with milder conditions to follow. Staying windy throughout. Maximum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Risk of fog on Monday morning, then largely dry with some sunshine. Windier on Tuesday with sunshine and showers, perhaps heavier overnight. Windy and mainly dry on Wednesday. Mild throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.